LET THE NEED FILL YOU

THE NEED now viewable to all producers and directors at Writers' Script Network

To kiss her lover could kill them both or save the human race.

Shybel, a teenage Sime, whose beautiful humanity, from her sensuous lips to the tip of her graceful tentacles can heal or easily kill, loves Bigfingers, a Gen, whose life force is a Sime's sustenance. Their union can destroy all they've ever known, or build a foundation for the future.

Based on a short story by award winning author Jacqueline Lichtenberg, The Need, a screenplay by Anne Phyllis Pinzow, brings the Sime~Gen world of Lichtenberg and Jean Lorrach to the screen.

Tapping into the themes propelling such successes as Buffy the Vampire Slayer, this Romeo and Juliet story with occult overtones, draws from the very essence of the modern world's angst. Kill or be killed, or trust an inhumanly amoral ancient enemy for the sake of a dangerous peace.

Coinciding with the re-release of a boxed set edition of Lichtenberg's and Lorrach's Sime~Gen novels by Meisha Merlin, The Need is available for view at The Writers' Script Network at <http://www.writerscriptnetwork.com/index.html> For further information, contact Sharon Jarvis at The Toad Hall Agency, (845) 620-9491 or email SimeGenTheNeed@aol.com.
